JEAN MONNET CHAIR IN MEDITERRANEAN DIGITAL SOCIETIES AND LAW

Digital Mare Nostrum

Alessandro Mantelero
Politecnico di Torino
(2022-2025)

The Chair aims to promote Mediterranean studies in computer law through an interdisciplinary cross-fertilisation, contributing to reducing the existing gap in the field of computer law that affects Mediterranean countries, which are often underrepresented in the global arena. The Chair wants to amplify the voice and participation of Mediterranean countries in the EU regulatory and policy debate. This will enrich the discussion at EU level through a focus on digital societies, benefiting from the significant scientific output in humanities and legal studies of Mediterranean countries with a positive interdisciplinary cross-fertilisation for the development of human-centric digital societies and AI.

ENTERING THE SEMINAR: THE ROMAN MEDITERRANEAN SEA: DATA FROM AND FOR ARCHAEOLOGICAL RESEARCH

Politecnico di Torino, Room 10A | 7 November 2022, 11:30-14:30

AGENDA

- Presentation of the Jean Monnet Chair
  Alessandro Mantelero

- Roman Mediterranean economy and data
  Mattia Balbo, University of Turin

- Cultural heritage and digital humanities
  Lorenzo Calvelli, University of Venice

- Q&A and discussion

- Archaeological Data: A legal perspective
  Maria Letizia Bixio, European University of Rome

- BIM Acquisition and Cultural Heritage
  Massimiliano Lo Turco, Politecnico di Torino

- Q&A and discussion

- Closing remarks: Future activities of the Chair
  Alessandro Mantelero

For any inquiries regarding the conference, please contact Dr M. Samantha Esposito (samantha.esposito@polito.it)

https://polito-it.zoom.us/webinar/register/101047818 - DIGIMED - ERASMUS-JMO-2021-CHAIR

Or scan the code to join the meeting. Please join with your microphones muted.