LECTURE
LANDSCAPE AS MAN'S HABITAT

15 December 2022
Thursday, 5:00 p.m
Lecture room 207 - Online
Lingotto via Nizza, 230
Politecnico di Torino

Guest Lecture by:
João Nunes
Co-founder of PROAP - Arquitectura Paisagista
Professor at USI – Accademia Architettura Mendrisio

João Nunes is a landscape architect with a great passion for drawing and understanding the processes of the world. Founder of PROAP, whose philosophy is to interpretate the mechanisms of the Landscape, within which the Project is introduced as an integral part of the process of transformation of the world. His professional and teaching activities intertwine and contribute to the development of new lines of research and experimentation. He is a full professor at the Accademia di Architettura in Mendrisio and a Visiting Professor at international universities (Harvard GSD, U-Penn, OSU – Knowlton College, Delft).

Discussant:
Massimo Crotti

Master's degree course Architecture for Sustainability
Lecture promoted by the Design Studio
APS - Adaptive Public Spaces
Professors: Massimo Crotti, Claudio Germak, Arianna Astolfi, Alberto Iossetti
Teaching Assistants: Ilaria Tonti, Janet Hetman

The lecture will be held in English.
Online | Zoom meeting click here.